EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Eric Thies on June 15, 2010.

The application has been amended as follows:

Cancel claims 26-27

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The claimed invention is drawn to a compound of formula Ic. The compounds have been searched. The closest prior art is discussed in the previous Action, and discloses compounds substituted by methoxy (in place of chloro) and having a pyridyl group (in place of phenyl). Although it is asserted that both of the differences are prima facie obvious modifications, Applicant has demonstrated unexpected results in the instant case.

It is well settled that a showing of unexpected results is generally sufficient to overcome a prima facie case of obviousness. In re Albrecht, 514 F.2d 1389 (CCPA 1975). However, as recognized by the court in In re Schulze, 346 F.2d 600 (CCPA 1965), mere arguments are not sufficient to demonstrate unexpected results. Rather, unexpected results must be established by factual evidence by comparing the claimed invention with that of the closest prior art. In re Burckel, 592 F.2d 1175 (CCPA 1979). As discussed by the court in In re De Blauwe, 736 F.2d 699 (Fed. Cir. 1994), "the absence of tests comparing [Applicant's claimed invention] with those of the closest prior art... constitute mere argument". In the instant case, Applicant has appropriately compared the claimed invention with that of the closest prior art and provide factual evidence which demonstrates that the claimed invention: provides greater than expected results as well as the absence of an expected property. A greater than expected result is evidence of nonobviousness. Similarly, the absence of an expected property possessed by the prior art is evidence of nonobviousness. Ex parte Mead Johnson and Co., 227 USPQ 78 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1985). In the instant case, the factual evidence is deemed sufficient to rebut the prima facie case of obviousness.

Furthermore, the compounds are considered enabled and contain written support.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
